Helping students get ready for NAPLAN

The most resilient children and young people are those who rise to meet rather than retreat from the challenges presented to them. Perhaps it’s best to view the NAPLAN tests as good learning experiences rather than dreaded pressure tests.

Be careful what you wish for as a parent
The focus on success and achievement doesn’t have to come at the expense of our children’s empathy and wellbeing.

What would you wish for? A caring child or a successful child?

If pressed to choose, which would you prefer?

If you were like the parents of kids in a recent study you’d go for successful rather than caring.
